Account Executive

Haley Brouwer is an Account Executive at DCI, where she has worked for the past three years. She supports clients across a range of sectors, including telecommunications, technology and international affairs.

As part of the client services team, Haley delivers well-written, thoroughly researched materials aligned with strategic objectives. She provides media relations support that has led to coverage in top-tier publications and brings a strong track record of collaboration, including time embedded directly with an in-house client team.

Prior to joining DCI, Haley interned for public relations agencies in southern California, focusing on entertainment clients in Los Angeles and local business clients in San Diego.

Haley graduated from Pepperdine University with a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and Public Relations. During her time in college, she studied abroad in Lausanne, Switzerland, and she remains engaged with the university through alumni relations volunteer efforts.

Apart from DCI, Haley worked a summer job at the San Diego Zoo, has seen over 50 artists live in concert, and practices yoga in her spare time.
